

The Healing to Wellness Team monitors the participants' progress. Members consist of the Judge, Prosecutor, Program Coordinator, Enforcement Officer, Law Enforcement, Stone Child College, TANF, Social Service, WSHC, Behavioral Health and other Court staff. These individuals work together as a team to assist the participant in completing his or her treatment plan requirements.

PHASES OF THE PROGRAM

There are Four Phases of the Program

1. Introduction/Information – Learning About: why you are in the program; the mental, emotional, physical, and spiritual effect of using alcohol and/or other drugs; what to expect from the program and what will be expected from you.
2. Personal Responsibility – Accepting that: you have a problem with alcohol and/or other drugs; this problem has hurt you, your family, and your community; you can make changes for the better which will improve your life and the lives of those around you.
3. Cooperation/Accountability – Be willing to: Cooperate and follow the treatment program, encourage others to do the same/be a role model; make better choices; live a good life, free of alcohol and other drugs; develop a plan to resist relapse.

4. Completion/Continuing Growth and Wellness – Succeeding in: working through the other phases; leading a constructive life without alcohol and other drugs; learning new things about yourself; having a plan to continue your wellness; making a difference for yourself, your family, and your community.

Goal: The Chippewa Cree Tribal Courts will enhance services of the Adult Healing to Wellness Court to respond to and prevent alcohol and substance abuse related crimes on the Rocky Boy's Indian Reservation through the provision of culturally relevant and appropriate evidence based co-occurring treatment services.

Chippewa Cree Tribal Court

96 Clinic Road
Box Elder, MT 59521
Phone (406) 395-4735
Fax (406) 395-5184

CHIPPEWA CREE TRIBE HEALING TO WELLNESS COURT PROGRAM

The Healing to Wellness Court Program is a court-supervised, comprehensive program for non-violent offenders.

Healing to Wellness Court:

- A voluntary, enhanced supervision program
- Handles cases involving individuals who have committed offenses resulting from their abuse of alcohol or other substances.
- Brings together community-healing resources with the tribal justice process, using a team approach to achieve the physical and spiritual healing of the participant and the well being of the community.
- A component of the Tribal Justice System.
- Provides a wide range of services necessary to support the individual's recovery.
- Follows a deferred prosecution procedure. If the offender and participating family successfully completes the mandatory requirement, charges will be deferred with no further criminal sentence.
- Integrates cultural values to address substance abuse.

- Partners with Human Service Agencies to assist in providing services to address the physical and emotional health, educational, and social needs of the participant.

SERVICES AVAILABLE

- Assessments: Chemical Dependency, Behavioral Health and CAIS
- Case Management : Monitoring and Compliance Checks
- Comprehensive & Coordinated Supervision
- Mandatory Random Drug and Alcohol Testing
- 4 Phases of Individualized Treatment Program Plan
- Incentives / Sanctions/Point System
- Education
- Intensive Out Patient and In Patient Treatment
- Interactive Journaling and Matrix Model for Criminal Justice Settings
- Medical Assisted Treatment
- Moral Reconciliation Therapy
- Interactive Journaling

The Rocky Boy's Healing to Wellness Court Program assists participants in addressing addiction issues and to engage in healthy behavior and conduct.

PROGRAM LENGTH

Case management plans will be individualized and will continue for a minimum of nine (9) months and up to 2 years.

PROGRAM ENTRY

Entry into the program is through:

- Pleading guilty for alcohol or drug related crime.
- Referral on Criminal charges
- Deferred Sentencing
- Federal Felony and Violent Crimes are not eligible for this program